

Karen Scanlon

---

From: Brian Lindley <brian.lindley@notill.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 04, 2011 2:54 PM
To: Karen Scanlon
Subject: CASA call notes for January

Karen,

I hope all is well. Please send this out to the list. My email client would not let me forward to the group. Bummer.

All,

We experienced a very disappointing turnout for the conference call today. I was filling in for Karen who is at the Dr. this am. Dave Brandt and I had a good conversation, but unfortunately we were the only ones on the call. Perhaps next month will be better. I think we should email our thoughts around concerning CASA participation with hosting the World Congress. I support a North American effort to host it. We should also have someone address this group on everything involved with the project.

Member Updates:

Dave Brandt will be speaking in Nebraska at three extension meetings:

Feb. 15 at UNL's Agricultural Research and Development Center near Mead, NE

Feb. 16 at the Loup Valley Ag Complex in Ord, NE
Center in Holdrege, NE

Feb. 17 at the Ag

No-till on the Plains is hosting the 15th annual Winter Conference January 25 and 26 and the AIM Symposium on the 27th all located in Salina, KS. Keynote speakers include Steve Wozniak cofounder of Apple Computer; Brian Briggeman economist from the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank; and Stewart Kennedy a great motivational speaker from Edmond, OK and inventor of peanut butter by the slice.

There is a webinar with Dr. Rolf Derpsch on January 12th this is the inaugural offering in our No-till on the Plains University.

We are also planning a trip to Brazil from March 10 – 27.

Information for all of the No-till on the Plains events can be located at www.notill.org

Sincerely,

Brian Lindley
Executive Director
No-till on the Plains
785.456.1433
Skype: brian.lindley2112

Creating a Brighter Future for Humanity!™

++++
The content of this email is solely intended for the use of No-till on the Plains, Inc.. Do not cite or quote without prior approval.